

Student Opinions of Instruction : Fall 2017

58 Surveyed

Erin Kearns (CJ 422-001 Terrorism)

The instructor...

Question	Num Resp	Resp Rate	Std Mean Dev	Excellent	Above average	Average	Below average	Failure
How would you rate this course?	54	93%	4.07 0.93	43%	26%	28%	3%	0%
How would you rate the instructor of this course?	53	91%	4.19 0.90	47%	28%	21%	3%	0%

Any additional comments about the instructor.

I don't like the no technology rule. Although I understand the research, I think a better policy would be force folks with computers to sit in the back of the classroom. I only can take notes on my computer so not having that made me not care to go to class. I feel like this professor is also very extra with her favorites. It was very noticeable the extra attention given to Heather in the class.

Fr Kearns is nice and she's helpful. She cares about how well you do in her class.

Professor Kearns was one of the best professors I have had here at Alabama. She has so much knowledge on the subject she is teaching and presents it in a very fun and interesting way.

Great teacher.

Keep doing what you do. I do think maybe the power points could have a little more context clues just as a reminder about what it is talking about when we go back to study for the midterm and the final

none

This course was recommended by other students who took the course under another instructor. Kearns often spoke about the subjects at a highly level and was hard to follow at times. The amount of readings that were required before each class seemed to be of an outrageous standards and seem to have burned out the students in the class from wanting to try and interpret the readings. All together Kearns was a good instructor.

Erin Kearns was an incredible instructor and gave the class amazing insight about the course. I enjoyed coming to class each and every day and I have learned more than I ever thought possible. So grateful to have had her as a teacher.

Professor Kearns is a great professor. She is always well prepared and made the effort to appease the class. She lessoned some of the required reading when the class complained.

Dr. Kearns is a well adapted professor who communicated the material in a clear and concise way. She made the material more intriguing and enjoyable to learn.

Thanks for an interesting semester.

I would love to take her as a teacher again

Speaks fast

She really knows what she's talking about and makes class interesting.

Dr. Kearns has been one of the best professors I've had. She was an effective teacher and kept the class interested in a complex topic not only for each class period, but for the entire semester. She kept the class engaged and interested in a topic that can easily become disinteresting.

She seems very knowledgeable and doesn't seem to interject any political views. Overall a great teacher.

N/A

The toothbrush must have been invented in Arkansas because if it was invented anywhere else it would have been called a teethbrush.

Dr. Kearns was a very fair instructor. She made sure that we knew what was expected of us far ahead of time for classes to begin. We were given all of the assigned readings for the class at the beginning of the semester. She made sure to consider our mid-semester feedback. When we said the readings were too much for us to do, she cut back on the number of readings she had assigned.

Any additional comments about the course.

I have learned more in this class about the subject than I could have ever imagined. I would highly recommend this interesting class to anyone interested in the topic.

Would like to see more extra credit opportunities, videos and guest speakers.

N/A

Sometimes the readings were a bit repetitive – they had similar conclusions. So, I wouldn't necessarily say that you should cut the amount of reading for the class; but, that making sure each reading is unique and insightful would make it a lot more interesting.

none

There was way too much reading and it's hard to understand and take in all the things you learn in this course. I didn't really like it and I'm not sure if I would recommend anyone to take it

A smaller class size would be more conducive for this material.

Excellent course. I really learned a lot about terrorism and enjoyed coming to class.

Great course.

So much reading but it was well worth it. This class will be one of the classes I take with me when I graduate and will always have the knowledge I gained in this class to keep me going through life.

attendance should not effect your grade as much as it does, if you say something is going to be on the exam it should be on there their, vice versa

Only wish was that instructions for the assignments were posted somewhere other than the syllabus for easy access. Forgot about the very first assignment (definitely on me) but I feel as though no former discussion was made about that first assignment except at the beginning of the semester and after it was over. Other than that, I have absolutely no complaints! Wonderful class, would recommend to absolutely everyone.

Great course, should be required to everyone

I think this class was organized well. The idea of 300 word memos was extremely helpful as well. My only issue with this class is maybe assigning articles from different point of views. It seemed most of the articles assigned had a left leaning stance on the material versus never really getting any perspective from others.

The policy memo rubric could be reworked because there are a lot of requirements that can overlap which makes the 300 word requirement extremely difficult

This is a great class and easily my favorite

I think this is a very valuable course. The information that I learned in this course changed the way I view terrorism as a whole. Also, the assignments that I was given in this course have prepared me for the "real world" so to speak. I think that this course was a valuable learning experience.